Brivio Limited is the owner of the GGBet crypto sportsbook site. It's a Cyprus-based company that is regulated by CySEC and it seems that Invicta Networks has a license for all gambling facilities that GGBet provides.

The great thing about the company's payment options is the fact that it varies depending on your location. The company has multiple partnerships with some of the most popular and trustworthy financial companies in the world. From credit card providers to electronic wallets, it has everything you need to make a deposit or a withdrawal. Unfortunately, this site does not take cryptocurrencies. It only allows fiat deposits.
